

Community Infrastructure Strategy Thriving Wellington

Background

The Community Infrastructure Strategy is in its early stage of development. The opportunity to check in now with the community will help shape the strategy but also ensure it is connected to both the Economic Development Strategy and the Arts, Culture and Leisure Strategy, supporting the goals of both strategies.

Community Infrastructure Strategy

The community buildings and spaces Council looks after, like halls, community centres and sports grounds.

The Community Infrastructure Strategy

Community facilities help support local events, activities, arts and community connection. As the cost of maintaining and renewing facilities continues to increase, Council needs to make careful decisions about where to invest limited funding.

The feedback from Thriving Wellington will help Council understand what the community values and how we can sustainably provide community spaces and places into the future. This is what will help shape a sustainable future thinking strategy.

We want to hear from you!

Community facilities are used and supported in many different ways. Whether you use a local sporting ground, volunteer at a community hall, attend events, or simply enjoy the spaces and services they provide, your views are important. Help us plan for the future of Wellington's community spaces and places.
